

SOLDIERS TO BE ENTERTAINED

Hotels, Rest Rooms, Churches,
All Thrown Open to Army
Men for Week-End.

TODAY IS MILITARY DAY

Shriners Give Complimentary
Dance This Evening to Members and Masons at Post.

Since the establishment of a cantonment at Fort Oglethorpe, Saturday has come to be the most popular day of the week for entertainments. It might well be called "soldiers' day." Through the intense heat of August interest in entertaining for the soldiers has not flagged. Thousands of the khaki-clad men and boys are seen on the streets every week-end and parties prepared for them at the soldiers' rest room on Broad street, at the different churches, and dances at the hotels are all well patronized. Those who have been stationed at the camp long enough have become acquainted with a number of Chattanooga people and sometimes very pleasant mutual acquaintances of families have been discovered.

The townspeople go to the fort all through the week and give programs under the auspices of the Women's Service league, but on Saturday every-thing is in town, for it is "soldiers' day."

This afternoon the Francis M. Walker chapter, U. D. C., will entertain with a dance at the Hotel Patterson. A. P. Stewart chapter has charge of a dance there. Members of these chapters are always on hand to act as hostesses and chaperones and look to the interest of their guests.

The Signal Mountain Inn will entertain with a dance at the casino this evening, and a large delegation from the city and army post will go. These dances are given for the benefit of the Signal Mountain Red Cross. An admission is charged and the proceeds given to the Red Cross. The amount realized from receipts at the door are all profit on the entertainment. The Signal Mountain Inn, Mrs. D. W. Atchison is chairman of the entertainment committee. Among the members of the Red Cross who will be present are Mrs. E. T. Newell, Mrs. James A. Wiggs, Mrs. O. J. O'Neal, Mrs. J. M. Hoguehead, Mrs. C. P. Knight.

The women's societies of the different churches are in charge of the week-end parties at the rest rooms, and are always ably assisted by the secretary, W. J. Baker.

Church Entertainments.
This evening the ladies of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will be the hostesses, and this church in all of its other entertainments at the rest room has been favored with a large and enthusiastic gathering. Music and refreshments will be a part of the evening's program. A large crowd of young people will be present and take part.

The Baptist Young People's union will entertain at the First Baptist church this evening for the soldiers. No admission is charged and no collection taken up. The program and refreshments will be a part of the evening's program. A large crowd of young people will be present and take part.

The First Methodist church serves a cafeteria supper, for which it charges a small amount, and entertains the soldiers after supper in the Sunday school room.

The Missionary society of Centenary church serves a cafeteria supper for so much per dish, and the soldiers are entertained afterwards by the young people of the church.

Shriners Honor Army Men.
The Shriners will give a dance this evening at the Masonic temple in honor of the members of the Shrine and Ma-

Shorter and Tighter

Orders Goddess of Style, Regarding Skirt and Jacket for Next Winter.

New York, Aug. 17.—Skirts are to be at least three inches shorter and much tighter this winter.

This is the latest mandate of the goddess of style, and the news was brought to American women here today by Miss Margaret Drecker, foreign buyer for a prominent American firm, who arrived from France.

"You can tell American women the styles for fall and winter call for skirts at least three inches shorter and much tighter," said Miss Drecker. "Jackets are to be shorter and tighter, too. All designs look toward the conservation of cloth. Prevailing colors will be brown, green, navy blue and taupe."

FORT OGLETHORPE HAPPENINGS RECOUNTED IN WEEKLY SKETCH

Mrs. J. M. Greer Entertaining With Series of Parties—Mrs. Pickett, Bride of Capt. Pickett, Returns to New York to Her Duties in Large Hospital.

With the thermometer sizzling around ninety-six and ninety-seven, social activities have suffered a decided "slump." Especially have afternoon affairs been curtailed. Sisters have become more popular than parties as the mid-day hours continue oppressive. However, the Red Cross work rooms in the officers' headquarters, during the hours of the morning, draw a group of faithful matrons. The evenings see numerous gaities indulged in by small groups at the hostess house, Hitching Post and post homes. Parties from the camp go up to Signal mountain each Wednesday and Saturday for the dinner-dances. Large parties seem postponed until autumn.

Mrs. J. M. Greer, wife of Col. Greer, entertained with an afternoon tea Thursday at her quarters, honoring Mrs. Munson, wife of Col. Munson. This is the first of a series of parties to be given by Mrs. Greer.

Mrs. Ashford, wife of Col. Ashford, was hostess of a well-appointed luncheon Friday at the Hitching Post. Covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. Frank Marcin is visiting her mother in Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Ames returned Friday from Hot Springs, N. C., where she has been visiting her husband, Col. Ames, who is in command of the war prison there.

Mrs. Mills, of Washington, D. C., who has been spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. Laurason, has returned home. Mrs. Mills was the honoree of a number of luncheons and afternoon affairs while here. She is the wife of the late Gen. Mills.

Mrs. Pickett has returned to New York to resume her duties as nurse in one of the large hospitals of that city. Mrs. Pickett is a bride of only a few weeks, having come here from New York to marry Capt. Pickett. The wedding was solemnized at the home of Maj. and Mrs. Norman Kirk. She has been one of the most popular young matrons of the army post and training camp.

Mrs. Ashford, wife of Col. Ashford, has returned from an extended southern trip.

THREE MEACHAM BROTHERS IN UNCLE SAM'S SERVICE

George Writes Homefolks That He Will Soon Be on His Way to Front.

An interesting letter from "somewhere over there" has been received by Miss Minnie Lee Meacham from her brother, Private George O. Meacham.

Private George O. Meacham.

Young Chattanooga George O. Meacham, who is in the States in less than a year.

who is with Battery B, 114th field artillery. The young man has two brothers in the service, William T. Meacham is also "over there," and Edwin, a younger brother, departed a few days ago for the camp at Hattiesburg, Miss.

"It was some trip across the pond," I got a little seasick. We were fourteen days on the water. One night while we were in the danger zone a torpedo passed in front of our ship. I am seeing France. The drivers out of our brigade are going through France and getting horses. I have been pretty close to the front. We will be on our way to the front in about sixty days. I begin to realize the war we are at, by seeing wrecked airplanes, places that have been bombed, and also by seeing ambulance trains. I stayed in English barracks that had been bombed three times. Railroad service is poor. The box cars are small."

In closing, he said he was well and feeling fine and expected to see the states in less than a year.

The Meacham brothers are intensely patriotic and have made splendid soldiers. Their father, R. C. Meacham, died several years ago, and with the entrance of Edwin into Uncle Sam's service, not a single son is left at home. The brave mother has given the three young men to the great cause and hopes that kind Providence will enable them to return to her safe and sound.

NATIVE OF GERMANY TO BE DROPPED AT ST. JOHN'S

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 17.—The board of governors and visitors of St. John's college today decided to drop from the faculty Dr. Adolf Schumacher, a native of Germany, who for a number of years was head of the department of modern languages at the institution.

This action was taken, it was said, because Dr. Schumacher was unable to satisfy the members of the board as to his status of being an enemy alien.

BIDBYE'S GOOD FORM

Sgt. John McGaughey, of the tank service, will arrive this evening on a furlough to visit his home people. He will be joined at Lenoir City by his mother, Mrs. M. A. McGaughey, and sister, Miss Ann McGaughey, who have been spending the summer in East Tennessee.

Mrs. J. C. Watkins and little daughter, of Joplin, Mo., are staying with Mrs. J. R. Rathmell while Maj. Watkins is at Camp Greenleaf.

Judge W. F. McGaughey received a telegram this morning from his brother, Capt. James McGaughey, now at Del Rio, Texas, saying that his wife had been of Pendleton, S. C., by the death of her father, Dr. W. A. Dietrich. Capt. McGaughey expects to pass through Chattanooga in a few days enroute to a camp in Kentucky.

MANUFACTURERS CANNOT MINE COAL FOR OWN USE

Fuel Administrator Calls Attention to New Ruling Issued by National Administration

W. E. Myer, the federal fuel administrator for the state of Tennessee, met in the office of W. E. Wilkerson, the local fuel administrator, Saturday morning for the purpose of discussing the local fuel situation. It has been brought up that a number of local manufacturers supply in periodical lots small mines in and around Chattanooga, and that they are thereby digging their own coal and are independent of the fuel administration. Mr. Wilkerson stated at the conference that there were probably forty "wagon mines" which had been opened up in this section of the state. Most of the manufacturers owning these mines are those who are not manufacturing war materials, or who are not included on the fuel preference list. A recent ruling gotten out by the fuel administration reads that the manufacturers cannot dig their own coal.

Another point that was brought up by the administrator was that the manufacturers who are included on the fuel preference list will not purchase coal from these "wagon mines," because they feel that the government will look after them and furnish them adequate supply in periodical lots.

Mr. Wilkerson recommended to Mr. Myer that these manufacturers be permitted to continue digging their own coal and that those on the preference list continue to get their supply from the manufacturers who are not included on the list.

Mr. Myer was going direct to Washington he announced that he would take the matter up directly with the fuel administration there and would get this rule modified somewhat. This will save the shutting down of the mines as well as some of the manufacturers. The manufacturers operating these mines feel that it would not be possible for them to continue to mine coal for other concerns when they could not obtain it themselves.

WEEKLY REVIEW HELD AT FORT OGLETHORPE

Eleventh Cavalry Passes in Parade Before Lieut.-Col. Boice.

The regular Saturday review of the Eleventh cavalry was held before Lieut.-Col. Boice at the Oglethorpe drill ground this morning, with Troops B, C, E, and the machine gun troop participating. The men put up an especially fine exhibition, and considerable favorable comment was heard among the officers and spectators regarding the well-trained condition of the cavalrymen. These Saturday reviews are coming to be a regular event at the post, and there is an increasingly large civilian audience at each one.

BELGIUM ALREADY PLANS RESTORATION

Paris.—(N. E. A.)—An organization known as the National Committee for the Restoration of Belgium has been formed in Paris to help industry and trade of Belgium to get back on its feet. The committee is to purchase tools and raw materials for the reconstruction of the nation's industrial fabric after the war. American concerns are invited to send catalogs of their goods.

WORST OF AIR WAR AWAITS THE ENEMY

Success of British and French Fliers Only Joke Compared With What Is Coming.

(By Lieut.-Col. Repington.)

London.—(Copyright, N. Y. World.)—The reports received up to yesterday afternoon show no important changes in the general situation between the Somme and the Oise, and such changes as did take place were to the advantage of the allies. The German counter attacks were fragmentary and of a nervous character and met with severe rebuffs.

But while the armies were quiescent the airmen were the reverse. For them there is no day of rest. Fifty tons of bombs were dropped by the British airmen on the Somme bridges and on railway junctions of military importance during the nights of Aug. 11 and 12. The Courtrai, Peronne and Cambrai railways also received copious showers. Some sixty German aircraft were shot down, besides several balloons.

The French also have been active in the air, and by day and night the enemy has been allowed no rest. The allied air offensive prolonged as it has been into German territory, where many squadrons of German airmen are now diverted for defensive work, has been most fruitful.

War Not Yet to Come.
It is under the depression caused first by defeat and then by this wearing process of bombing, in which the rain falls upon the generals as well as the troops, and upon the just and the unjust, that the German command has to prepare a counter offensive. It is all a joke compared with what will befall Germany a little later on in the air, but all the same it must create a condition of uneasiness and nervous debility throughout the enemy's ranks.

I should not be surprised to learn, later on, that this bombing behind the German lines had caused his reserves to be kept much further back than was desirable from a tactical viewpoint. I think that the large formation of German aircraft recently observed in the Vesle district have now come northwest, and are making a stand on the Somme rather late in the day.

How the Germans Lie!
How these Germans lie about their air losses! They admit the loss of only 128 airplanes in July, whereas we and the French have shot down 618. I can only imagine that the enemy feels obliged to lie in order to keep up the spirits of his people and troops. He will probably excuse himself some day by protesting that he only lost 29 over our lines, and did not count as lost those machines which crashed on his side lines, the pieces of which he could pick up.

He is a very bad loser, and always will look after them and furnish them adequate supply in periodical lots.

Mr. Wilkerson recommended to Mr. Myer that these manufacturers be permitted to continue digging their own coal and that those on the preference list continue to get their supply from the manufacturers who are not included on the list.

Mr. Myer was going direct to Washington he announced that he would take the matter up directly with the fuel administration there and would get this rule modified somewhat.
